Careers Advice

Key stage 3, 4 and 5 Careers Advice Pack

What is Pods4Jobs?

Pods4Jobs is a web-based careers advice service that gives a unique insight into a wide range of jobs. We invite young people and students to interview family and friends about their career choices and upload the interviews as video 'pods' to our website, pods4jobs.com. The pods can be viewed by anyone who wants to find out what it is like to work as, for example, a teacher or a doctor.

What do we do?

We help young people to...

- Discover new career options that they may not have been aware of.
- See for themselves what they can expect from different jobs and the pros and cons.
- Decide what they might like to do in future, and identify what they don't want to do.
- Understand the skills and qualifications demanded by different career paths.
- Aspire to succeed in their chosen career.
- Unlock their potential.

We work in partnership with secondary schools to...

- Offer a fully-rounded careers service

Pods4Jobs.com brings together a huge amount of information about a wide range of jobs in a single, safe environment. This is exactly what schools need to provide a comprehensive careers advice service that covers all available options.

- Give pupils crucial background information

Pods4Jobs.com shows real people talking about their jobs, how they got there, their career satisfaction and their recommendations to young people who would like to follow in their footsteps.

- Keep careers guidance relevant and up to date

The videos on pods4jobs.com are created by young people aged between 14 and 25, keeping them relevant to the secondary school age group. Some of them are created as part of university courses, keeping them fresh and current. The video format fits well into the busy school curriculum.
